Dear Sirs,
We enclose press copies of our letters of 12th inst, and replying to your letter of 27th ult^o, beg to say that the British Museum has at rare intervals disposed by public sale of the duplicate coins and medals that have come into its possession, but it is believed that no more sales will be held, as it is intended in future to distribute such duplicates amongst the local museums throughout the Country - Consequently there is no price list of the coins and medals themselves, but an electrotype collection numbering about 800 - can be had for £140 - mounted in velvet, in ebonised frames, glazed.
Half sets £70 -

There is a guide to the collection published at 25/- with plates giving a facsimile of each, but this is out of print at present and

and a new edition will not be ready until the end of this year, or the beginning of next. There is a smaller edition at 2/6. which contains all the letter press of the larger one, but only 8 of the plates. This can still be had. Single specimens of any in the collection can be supplied at 2/6 each.

The English Mint has no department for medals like the French Mint, and only the number ordered at the time is struck off; therefore they have none to sell, and as regards Coins only those now current can be obtained there and at the nominal value.

You do not specify what kind of medals and coins your Mr. J. H. Garrett requires but we should think the better way would be for him to apply to some dealer in them. The names of: - Lincoln & Son, 69 New Oxford St. W.C.

London

& Wm Webster
26, Bedford Square. W.C.
London.

have been mentioned to us, as having large collections

Collections, and we have sent to both places in the hope of obtaining a catalogue but without success. Mr. Webster has nothing of the kind.
Messrs Lincoln have a short summary of their collection; of which we enclose copy, and both of them will be happy to quote prices if Mr. Jarred will send them a list of what he wishes to acquire.

We are, Dear Sir,
Yours very truly,
J. M. W. J.
